Free Demonstration of Gossard Corsets at Our Store

Thursday, October 2nd

Miss McNally, a Corsetiere from the Gossard office, will be at our store all day Thursday, Oct. 2, to demonstrate the different styles in Gossard Corsets.

Every woman in Barre can have a Gossard Corset.

It has only been a short time since the price of Gossard Corsets was made low enough to permit of their general use by all women.

Never since the "Gossard" Front Lacing was first introduced have we been able to show a greater value in any Corset than in our new model, No. 307.

TALK OF THE TOWN

Stonemasons' and house aprons for sale at the Odd Ladies' fair, Oct. 1, 2, 3 and 4.

Members of Barre lodge, No. 138, N. E. O. P., are urged to be present at the regular meeting Wednesday night at 8 o'clock. Visitors from neighboring lodges are expected and after the business meeting supper will be served by the entertainment committee.

A fire drill was held at Spaulding high school yesterday afternoon under the direction of Principal White, and it took exactly a minute to clear the building of all the high school students, about 300 in number. These drills are held at intervals.

NO CHANGE EXPECTED

In Conference Report on the Tariff Bill To-day.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 30.—The House met to-day with the expectation that it would agree to the conference report on the tariff bill before adjournment to-night. A large Democratic majority made it certain that the report would be accepted without change, and the Democratic leaders expected the House would endorse the proposed compromise cotton future plan and ask a further conference with the Senate on that feature.

TALK OF THE TOWN

New Scotch flannels at Abbott's. Gossard. Gossard. Gossard. Gossard corsets at Fitts.

Let your engagements for Oct. 1, 2, 3 and 4 include the Odd Ladies' fair. Bring your children to the fish pond at the Odd Ladies' fair, Oct. 1, 2, 3 and 4.

We have an exceptionally choice lot of cows; several fresh; to be sold at the Benjamin farm on the road from Barre to Montpelier on Thursday, October 2nd, at one o'clock in the afternoon. Dan A. Perry, auctioneer.

Enterprise Alley to Be Lighted.

Following a conference between the aldermanic lighting committee and Manager C. F. Millar of the Consolidated Lighting Co., it has been decided to lift the cover of darkness that has entrained Enterprise alley by night and to that end two powerful lights will be established in the rear of the business blocks on the west side of North Main street. Along the alley from the south the first light will be located in the rear of the C. H. Kendrick pharmacy, while the second will be placed at a point several rods to the north, in the rear of the Bolster building. Travelers by night through Enterprise alley have long felt that the way should be lighted and it is certain that the decision of the aldermanic committee will be much appreciated in a good many quarters.

TALK OF THE TOWN

D. E. Hicks of Malvern Hills, Pa., is spending several days in the Barre granite belt.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Millar, who have been visiting their son, C. F. Millar, of Beacon street, returned yesterday to their home in Boston.

Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Wells, who recently vacated the house on Merchant street which the former sold to M. S. Levin, left to-day for Laconia, N. H., where they are to make their home. Mr. Levin is planning to move his household goods from Forsythe place to his newly purchased property.

In the east display window at O. J. Dodge's jewelry store, William Duff, a well known local designer, is exhibiting a nature study which he recently produced from sketches made at Edgewood on the easterly heights of the city. The picture represents Camel's Hump just at dusk and the artist has transferred to canvas the best that the view affords. The Hump looms up large in the twilight coloring of the picture and in the distance, too, may be seen other spurs of the Green mountains. Mr. Duff sketched his picture from the main road leading to Edgewood and in the foreground may be seen a section of the hedge and undergrowth which skirts the Camp street road. Already the picture has attracted the attention of many passersby and none pause but to remark upon its remarkable fidelity to the original.

TALK OF THE TOWN

New lot of thought sweaters at Abbott's.

Free demonstration Thursday of Gossard corsets at Fitts.

Alfred A. Lamorey of Cliff street left last night for New York on a ten-day business trip.

William Sullivan of Northbrook, P. Q., is making an extended visit in the city with friends and relatives.

J. J. McCabe, who has been passing a few days in the city, returned to-day to his home at Burlington.

Orville Benedict of North Main street began work yesterday as a clerk in the store of E. A. Prindle & Co.

Charles H. Dewey, who has been passing a few days in the city, returned yesterday to his home at Woodstock.

V. M. Boudier, who has been passing a few days in the city, returned yesterday to his home at New Haven.

Miss Julia Galvin returned this morning to her home in St. Albans, after spending a few days with friends in the city.

The regular monthly meeting of the ladies aid society of the Presbyterian church will be held in the library room on Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock.

Miss Helen S. Averill of Tremont street left this morning for Boston, where she will resume her studies in Miss Winslow's kindergarten school.

Anthony Rossi of High Hobson street, who was called to Quincy, Mass., last week by the death of his brother, Charles Rossi, has returned to the city.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Comstock and C. P. Durand, who have made their home in Barre for many years, will leave early to-morrow morning for Raymond, Cal., where they will make their home.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Bastianon of Barre Town were visitors in the city to-day, leaving this forenoon at 11:20 o'clock for Proctor, where they will make their home. Mr. Bastianon has secured employment there.

John McCall of North Main street left yesterday for Stone Mountain, Ga., where he will be employed during the winter. He was accompanied by Alex. Simpson, who will spend the winter in Atlanta and Stone Mountain.

Mr. and Mrs. E. McPherson Laws of Wellington street, who have been passing ten days at Mr. Laws' former home in Front Royal, Va., arrived in the city to-day. While absent they also visited relatives in Baltimore, Md., and Washington, D. C.

Louis D. Tomasi of this city, who entered the University of Vermont this month, is one of the promising candidates for football. Tomasi played last season with Norwich university at end. He will be given a chance to show his worth in the Vermont-Middlebury game at Burlington on Wednesday.

Funeral services for Clarence E. Nourse, a former resident of Barre, whose death occurred at his home in Worcester Sunday night, after an illness of two years, will be held from his late home Wednesday afternoon. The interment will be made in the cemetery at Worcester.

Joseph Brogini, a former resident of Barre, who has been employed in Northfield for the past two years, has returned to this city and will make his home on North Main street. Mr. Brogini will engage in business with Louis Pockett, who recently leased the store building just south of the H. J. Smith block on North Main street.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Fagerston, who have been spending the past few months at their former homes in Sweden and Finland, returned to the city last night. For the past week they have been visiting with relatives at Quincy, Mass. Part of their visit was passed at Dalsland, Sweden, the former home of Mr. Fagerston, and the remainder at Finland, the former home of Mrs. Fagerston.

Danger posts were removed to-day from the new stretch of pavement on North Main street and the entire street is now open to traffic. The work on the street was completed by the Daniel O'Connell Stone company about ten days ago. Since that time a long stretch of the paving, the last to be treated to the cement coating, has been closed to allow the coating to set. The new piece of paving extends from Granite street north to the Gunner brook bridge.

Commenting on the scarcity of apples and the failure of other fruits, a well known local fruit dealer stated to-day that he had never witnessed such a dearth of native fruit as that of the present year. Apples, whenever obtainable for the trade, must be purchased in the Boston markets, where they are received from the coast orchards. Locally, Oregon fruit is retailed at prices unusually high. A single apple brings a nickel and a dozen are worth 50c. Along the lake, and among Vermont's islands, the shortage is seriously felt and growers are demanding $5 per barrel for their crop. They are getting these prices, too.

TALK OF THE TOWN

Miss Annie B. Averill and Harry W. Averill left at 5:40 last evening for Sacramento, Cal., where they will join their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Linley A. Averill, who have been located in that city for several months.

Several members of the newly organized Alpine club enjoyed their first mountain excursion Sunday and Monday.

day, when Lester W. Clough, Walter M. Randall, A. P. Calderwood, William Edwards, J. Gould Moore and William Doble made the ascent of Camel's Hump. The party went to North Duxbury early Sunday morning by automobile and started the climb by foot at Callahan's near the base of the mountain. The view from the hump on Sunday was superb and the enthusiastic mountaineers vow they'll attempt the rugged slopes again before snow flies.
